2. Class Awards

All undergraduate classes are encouraged to fill out the online survey. The award will be given to the classes which have reached the highest completion rates and the completion rates must reach at least 80%. The completion rate is calculated by dividing the number of students who completed the online survey by the number of students enrolled in the class. The winning rate is approximately 10%. The top completion rate classes will be awarded monetary prizes, as described below.

One First Prize: The prize is 5,000 NTD.

One Second Prize: The prize is 4,000 NTD.

One Third Prize: The prize is 3,000 NTD.

Fifteen Special Prizes: The prize is 2,000 NTD for each class.

(1) First, Second and Third Prizes

The First Prize is limited to one class, and same rule applies to the Second and Third Prizes. If more than two classes have the same completion rates, the one with a larger class size will win the prize; if the class sizes are the same, the award will be determined by lottery.

(2) Special Prizes

Besides the above three prizes, Special Prizes will be awarded based on the following rules, up to fifteen classes:

- A. General Special Prize (Twelve classes): The General Special Prize will be awarded to the twelve classes that have reached the highest completion rates. If two or more classes share the same completion rates for the lowest-ranked places, the class with the most significant number of students will win the prize. If the class size is also the same, it will be determined by lottery, a total of twelve classes.

- B. Speed Prize (Three classes): The Speed Prize will be awarded to the three classes that have reached the 100% completion rate in the shortest time. During the survey-taken period, the Office of Academic Affairs will record the completion rates at a fixed time every morning. The Speed Prize will not be granted to classes that have won other awards.
- C. Classes with fewer than ten students will not be ranked. When a 100% completion rate is reached, each student in this class will receive a gift.

3. Individual Student Awards

The intended participants who have completed all their courses' online surveys within the time limit will receive a special limited school souvenir.
